In the Blink of an Eye

"The story of life is quicker than the blink of an eye.
The story of love is hello and goodbye"
- Jimi Hendrix

A journey of a thousand miles may begin with just one step, but, in the blink of an eye, the journey is complete. As successful graduating seniors we are ready to tackle anything life has to offer. We can confidently take strides into a new world. However, it was not always such a luminescent path.

Glance back to elementary school, when those high school kids seemed so much bigger than we were. Reminisce about the simple pleasures, the longed-desired toys, and the innocence. Think back to middle school, when small problems seemed overwhelming. Remember the challenging classes, the new friends, and the self-discovery. Reflect, not so long ago, on freshman year, when the very thought of conquering four years of high school seemed impossible. Recall the peer pressure, the pure chaos, and the fresh start.

Keep those pictures in your mind and now, imagine the future possibilities. Picture yourself as a college scholar. Look forward to obtaining a well-deserved career. Dream of living a purely happy life resulting from those four years of rigorous education. Someday, with the quick blink of an eye, we will reach all these possibilities.

Dedication

Ms. Sara Swett-Zizzo and Mr. Robert Powers

Every senior at Stoneham High School remembers opening his or her schedule freshman year. Beside the physical education title were the names Mr. Powers or Ms. Swett-Zizzo. Most of us can recall thinking what appropriate names for physical education teachers. Over the years those names have taken on a deeper meaning for the students of Stoneham High. Today, these individuals are commonly thought of as our role models who we value and respect. From Mr. Powers' infamous leg cranks to Ms. Swett-Zizzo's witty jokes, we have learned many lessons and everyday values that are now applicable to the journey upon which we are about to embark.

After graduating from Saint Anselm College with a Bachelor of Arts in Criminal Justice, Ms. Swett-Zizzo realized her true passion was teaching and working with children. Having a passion for sports and having participated on the softball team in college, Ms. Swett-Zizzo knew she wanted to create the same type of memories and atmosphere for others. This led her to a career in physical education and luckily for us that enabled her to find her job at Stoneham High School. From her endless advice, to the success of the girl's hockey team, it is evident that her impact affects countless students. In addition, she coaches the softball team which had much success as the 2010 Division II North Champions and Eastern Mass Champions, making it to the state championship game. Ms. Swett-Zizzo is a force to be reckoned with as she inspires her students, players, and even co-workers to push themselves to achieve goals they never thought were attainable.

Sharing the gym as their classroom is not all that these two teachers have in common. Mr. Powers is a force to be reckoned with as well. Best known for his extensive knowledge of the human body's performance, his knowledge extends far beyand that. Graduating from Southern Connecticut State University with a Bachelor of Science in Physical Education and graduating from Cambridge College with a Masters in Education, his knowledge has provided his students with the tools ta not only workout properly, but to carry on a better quality of life through nutrition and everyday exercise. In addition to his impact in the classroom, his coaching abilities will also be hard to beat. Coach Powers started coaching football in 1983 and track in 1986. In 2006, the football team went 7-4 and broke every conceivable Stoneham High School scoring and rushing record.

Although this is impressive, his strong suit seemed to be coaching indoor as well as outdoor track and field. The indoor team won their first Indoor Relay Title in 1988 with three more following. The team also won two Indoor State Titles and one Middlesex League Championship. Outdoors, his team won five State Relay Titles, one State Title, and two North State Decathlon Team Championships. After the passing of his close friend and colleague, Mr. Phil Riley, Mr. Powers took on the role as the boys' cross-country coach knowing that he had big shoes to fill. He led the boys to a successful season while opening their eyes to the unpredictability of life and the importance of striving for the best. Mr. Powers provides help to anyone who asks for it and encaurages students to push themselves towards their goals.

As we move an, many of our memories have been influenced by Ms. Swett-Zizza and Mr. Powers. Their dedication to the schaol and to the students is endless. Whether they are guiding us in aur lives or coaching a team, the students at Stoneham High School will always remember these two extraordinary teachers. As the graduating class of 2011, we would like to thank them for their dedication to the school and for setting an example of how accepting, exceptianal, and admirable people carry themselves.

FACULTY

Withaut a faculty there can be na schaal. The faculty is a huge part af aur lives. Our faculty nat anly teaches us the required curriculum, but alsa teaches us about life. The faculty at Staneham High Schaal has amused us with staries that in time we will laak back upan as helpful and invaluable advice. As students, we da nat always realize haw impartant these maments are. Many of us have slept through nat anly the material we may be tested an with pencils and paper, but an what we may be tested as we enter the real warld.

In the blink af an eye, the paper and pencils are gane and it is aur respansibility ta remember the teachers wha, an many levels, sa willingly shared their wealth of knowledge. Thanks to our amazing faculty, we will be able to survive aut in the warld that awaits.

Members of the faculty show their college pride during Higher Education Week sponsored by the Guidance Department.

Third Row: E. Bergstram, K. Hegarty, K. Canneely, A. Belliveau

"Let my people pee! Will nat pay ta pee!" are the chants fram the streets af Urinetawn. Staneham High Schaal perfarmed the musical Urinetawn with the guidance af Directar Mr. Jasan Eppskrier, Assistant Directar Adrianne Barn, and the musical directian af Mr. Rabert Lague, as well as the stage managing af Deepti Kanneganti. The help af bath cast and crew was essential ta the transfarmatian af the auditarium inta the streets af Urinetawn. Under the directian af Dave Hume and Katie Canneely, the canstructian crew warked lang haurs thraugh the weeks leading up ta the shaw. In the end, the platfarms were campletely transfarmed inta metal scaffalding thus creating the ald, scruffy place knawn as Urinetawn. With the effarts af hair and make-up, alang with castumes, and praps the shaw came tagether as ane we wauld never farget! Urinetawn began with a friendly welcame fram aur narratar, Officer Lackstack (Ryan Marchant) and the adarable Little Sally (Jill Graczyk) that filled us in an the hustle and bustle af the tawn.

After a twenty year draught, the gavernment af Urinetawn has banned private tailets; naw the citizens must use pay-to-pee tailets regulated by the Urine Gaad Campany wha charges exarbitant prices. The crawds huddle in line, desperate ta use Public Amenity Na. 9, the paarest urinal in tawn, run by Penelape Pennywise (Alyssa LaGrassa). Traubles arise when Old Man Strang (Nick Preziasi) cannat affard his urinal admissians far the day. Old Man Strang asks Pennywise ta let him use the urinal far free just this ance. Pennywise is farced ta explain ta the tawn "It's a Privilege ta Pee." In this warld where everyane must pay ta pee, ane man has dared ta stand up against the arder af saciety that Urinetawn has became. Babby Strang (Angela McDanaugh), the assistant af Amenity Na. 9, decides he has had enaugh and plans a revalt. The awner Caldwell B. Cladwell (Jeff Siegel) af the Urine Gaad Campany's daughter, Hape Cladwell (Adele Leikauskas) decides ta help Babby. Hape warks for the UGC Campany in preparatian ta take it aver far her father. However, she seems ta feel differently than her father abaut the situatian. Babby arganizes a rebellian in a missian allawing everyane ta pee far free! Babby Strang's revalt saan cames ta an end when he gets thrawn aff af the UGC building! Hape believes in Babby Strang and plans ta lead Urinetawn ta a place where everyane will be able ta pee far free. She is successful! Even thaugh the shaw may have came ta an end the seniars will farever remember the chants af "Let my peaple pee"!

Homecoming

The parade is about to begin! Here come the Spartans!

Presenting the Senior Class Homecoming Queen & King: Taylor Havican & Tyler Lapinsky!

Cady, Ally, Emily, and Adrianne lead the Seniors.

Tradition states that every four years Stoneham High School celebrates Homecoming. Leading up to the festivities our school participated in Wacky Tacky Day on Monday, Twin Day on Tuesday, and White Out Day on Wednesday. Every activity was a competition between the grades. The Senior Class came out on top in Hallway decorating, best float, and the most students participating in the dress up days. The night of Homecoming the student body watched the parade, the pie eating contest, the bonfire, and the pep rally. Each grade elected a king and queen. The Freshman Class nominees were Zoe Staude and Steve Mosca. The Sophomore Class nominees were Ally Mahoney and Alex Brown. The Junior Class nominees were Monica Canova and Dave Cascia. The Senior Class nominees were Taylor Havican and Tyler Lapinsky. A special highlight of the evening was the first appearance of our new school mascot, the Spartan. Old traditions continued and new traditions began on this fun-filled evening.

Student Council members party on their Christmas-themed float.

A Christmas Carol

The Hardworking Crew

The Talented Cast

The Drama Club's seniar class play, A Christmas Caral, was deemed a majar success. It was praduced with the help af the fallawing talented individuals: Directar Jasan Eppskrier, Assistant Directar Kali Hegarty, Stage Manager Tiaga Degen-Partnay, Technical Directar Katie Canneely, and assistants Chris Bilba, Greg Skidmare and Nick Paalini.

The praductian crew warked lang haurs ta put this shaw tagether. The castumes were incredibly realistic, due ta the capable leadership af Head af Castumes Ina Karanxha. Thanks ta the cantributians af Katie Canneely and Stephanie Mendanca, Heads af Hair and Make-Up, these theatrical aspects became essential ta returning the audience back ta the periad af Charles Dickens. Fram Tiny Tim's crutch, ta Scraage's bedraam, the Praps team aided in pulling the shaw tagether. Praps Mistress Rachel Lerman alang with assistants Kathryn Murphy and Tim Sheils used their talents ta create the desired atmasphere far the stage. Alsa, Artistic Directar Adrianne Barn applied her creativity ta capture aur imaginatians anstage.

This renditian af A Christmas Caral included a madern day narratar (Alyssa LaGrassa). Reading excerpts farm the ariginal Charles Dickens navel, the narratar experiences Christmas thraugh the eyes af Scraage (Cannar Barry). After a visit fram his ald partner Jacab Marley (Chris Fard), the Ghasts af Christmas transpart Scraage ta the Past (Zaey Michaels), the Present (Giuseppe Cannella), and finally ta the Future (Andrew Maganzini). Thraugh these visitatians, Scraage learns that he must change his ways. Awaking a new man, Scraage has nathing but generasity, charity and campassian an his mind. He ananymausly sends a prized turkey ta the Cratchit's hausehald and spends Christmas Day with his nephew's family. Scraage chaases ta danate ta charity and atane far his priar selfish behaviar. Alang with Scraage the narratar alsa experiences a change af heart tawards Christmas and leaves her raam ta surraund herself with the lave af her family. This shaw will be fandly remembered by all af the seniars wha participated in making it a reality!

Jacab Marley appeared amid the fag carrying heavy (and very laud) chains.

Christmas Present surprises Scraage when he leaps anta his bed.

Christmas Past shines brightly, startling Scraage.

National Honor Society

Scholarship, Service, Leadership, and Character were the four attributes recognized at the 2011 Stoneham High National Honor Society Induction Ceremony. On February 7, three seniors and numerous juniors were honored for their impeccable demonstration of these four characteristics. All of the inductees not only displayed these characteristics inside the classroom, but they have revealed their willingness to lead and serve in the school and in the community as well.

The ceremony began with a procession of the newest members. The National Honor Society officers then read speeches to honor each of the principle characteristics of the National Honor Society. Ina Karanxha, Vice President, spoke about leadership, describing all of the inductees as "superheroes" in their own distinct ways. She talked about the importance of using personal strengths to lead in unique ways. Christine Cronin, Treasurer, then introduced the importance of service in every person's life. No matter how big or small an act of kindness may be, she emphasized that one small act will make a difference in a person's life forever. Adrianne Born, Secretary, followed by discussing the concepts of scholarship. She highlighted that hard work in the classroom never goes unnoticed as students place education and knowledge foremost in their lives, ahead of the technology of teenage life. Lastly, President Anya Piasecki, touched upon the examples of character possessed by each of the new inductees. She proudly described how character will have a unique place in every person's life and must be defined by each and every individual.

The Honorary Speaker, Ms. Farobough, was then introduced. She congratulated the inductees and described her hope for the future because of the strong-willed young adults by whom she was surrounded. Ms. Farobaugh offered each member a quote to live by when she described "Ubuntu." She emphasized that "Ubuntu" means that we can all be anybody we want to, but as a community we must all help one another in order to become the best individuals we can be. Her speech genuinely inspired everyone to continue the hard work that has helped them to accomplish all they have today, and to continue their mission into the future. The Honorary Membership Award was then presented to culinary teacher Mrs. Gagnon, to honor her tremendous leadership and dedication as a Stoneham High teacher. She has demonstrated the attributes of the National Honor Society throughout her tenure at Stoneham High School . Finally, the candlelight ceremony commenced. Each of the inductees received a pin and lit candles to mark their induction into the National Honor Society. The ceremony and evening was one that the officers and inductees will not soon forget.

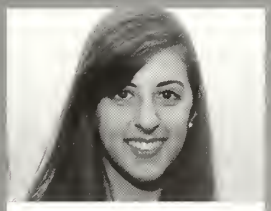
Words from the Wise...

"Service is an attitude and a choice where you simply forget obout yourself and your own needs far just one moment ond put another person first." - Christine Crown

"Most of all, scholarship is a fire in that it is inseparably linked with passion. To be passionate about your education, to want to know - there are the qualities of a true scholar." - Adrianne Born



"Leadership is the willingness to collaborate, to listen patiently, and at the same time, to defend those issues that matter the most that initiate a ripple change in the sea of life." - Ina Karavka

"One of the most important ospects of character, which often gets overlooked, is the toleronce and the occeptonce of other interpretations of character." - Anya Prasecki

Drama Fest

The Dedicated Crew

The Hilarious Cast

Every year the Stoneham High School Drama Club competes with other schools presenting a one act play at Drama Festival. This year, the club performed God by Woody Allen, directed by Mr. Joson Eppskrier, Assistont Director Adrionne Born, ond Stage Manager Tiago Degen-Portnoy. God is o hilorious show obout two ancient Greeks, Hepatitis (Connor Barry) and Diobetes (Jeff Siegel). Realizing that they are characters in a play, they invite Doris Levine (Emily Pinto), o philosophy student from Bunker Hill Community College, o guest from the oudience, to join them onstage. Together they try to think of an ending for Hepotitis' ploy. Tim Sheils, as Trichinosis, gives them his God Machine for the ending, where God will come and save the day. As the play within a play, within o play begins, Bob ond Wendy Fate (Tim Sheils and Alyssa LoGrasso) offer freedom to the slave Phidipides (Jeff Siegel) in exchange for delivery of a message to the king of Greece. Denise O'Brien, Alyssa Bené, and Kali Hegorty, os the Greek Chorus, norrote Phidipides' journey, making witty comments as he makes his woy to the palace. Rachel Lerman, os the paloce guard greets Phidipides. Overoll, pondemonium ensues as Tia Girordi runs through as a New Yorker dying from stob wounds. The guard (Rachel Lermon) comes out to deliver a message to Diabetes and tronsforms into o witty waitress who tokes his order. The choos continues as vorious chorocters shout from the audience including Manda Belliveou who insisted she wos o real person, not an actress!

At the Preliminary Round at Sharon High School, the crowd loughed at every joke ond we received a marvelous standing ovotion. Despite the fact that this production jumped around frequently, actors led the show ond never missed a beat while keeping the oudience fully in tune ond never confused. Tech directors Kotie Conneely and Christopher Bilbo, along with assistants Nick Paolini, Zack Young, Greg Skidmore and the rest of the crew, stayed late many nights to ensure the set was as sturdy as it wos beoutiful. The show was pulled together by many wonderful elements, such os sound composition ond operotion by Connor Borry ond Christopher Bilbo, lighting design by Tiago Degen-Portnoy, costumes by Ino Karanxho, props by Rachel Lermon and Kathryn Murphy, as well as hair and makeup by Katie Conneely and Stephanie Mendonca. At the owards ceremony, Stonehom High School received several owards: Connor Barry ond Rochel Lerman for Acting; Denise O'Brien, Alyssa Bené, ond Kali Hegarty for Synchronizotion; Ina Karanxha for Costume Design and Construction; and Katie Conneely, Christopher Bilbo, ond Adrianne Born for Set Construction and Design.

While we were disappointed that we did not move on, we felt proud of our performance which other schools described as perfect. The Drama Club thoroughly enjoyed our experience at Fest, meeting students from other schools ond watching some truly talented actors.

Field Hockey

Captains Words

Ending with a record of 5-8-5, this 2010 field hockey team had one of the school's best seasons in at least five years. Since the majority of our starting line up graduated last year, each player knew that a solid, individual effort was needed from all. Each of the girls stepped up to this challenge, and the improvement was clear. Although we surpassed our previous records, we fell three points shy of qualifying for the state tournament. This team's determination kept us mathematically alive for the tournament heading into the last game of the season, but we were unable to come up with the points we needed in the end.

We made some incredible memories this year both on and off the field. Some of the most remarkable moments of the season were defeating Lexington, one of the strongest teams in the Middlesex League, and scoring one of the three goals scored against Watertown all season. The field hockey team leaves the six seniors with unforgettable memories, including our pasta parties, sleepovers, Olympic practices, and scavenger hunt. This season's incredible success could not have been accomplished without the support of the team as well as the leadership and guidance of our coaches, Coach Dabbins and Coach Spelman. For the seniors, this team will be sorely missed. We wish the best of luck to our fellow seniors and to the rest of the team who will hopefully lead next year's team to victory!

Golf

Captains Words

This year golf had many returning players. After losing only one senior last year, we were hoping to have a solid team this year. We had eight returning golfers and six new golfers trying out so it was looking good. Unfortunotely, a lot of other teams did not lose very many players either, making it very difficult to compete.

This year we had three seniors: Adam Navarro, DJ Arsenault, and the captain, Danny Lumb. All three seniors brought a lot to the team. For most of the season they were in the top four golfers. Adam wos the most enthusiostic golfer on the team. He always knew every trick and tip there was in golf and used them on the course to his odvontoge. Adam has only played golf for two years so for him to be at his current skill level is remarkable. DJ was the most consistent golfer on the team and had the best record of anyone. As for Danny, he struggled in the beginning of the season and was not playing like he hod the seoson before, but by the end of the year he was back to normal and became one of the best golfers in the league.

Juniors on the team were Danny Shannon, Kevin Young, Stephen Columbus, Mike Kelley, and Cody Guerin. And for sophomores we had Danny Bullock and Bobby Giordano. With seven returning players next year we hope it will be a better season, but the team will have to step up its game since they will be losing three of their top golfers.

Volleyball

Captains Words

Not enough can be said about the 2010 Volleyball season. All members of the team dedicated countless hours and hard work to enable us to be as successful as we were. Missing the tournament by two games was definitely the low point of the season but with an 8-11 record, we can hold our heads high as the result is a vast improvement over last year. Graduating nine seniors last year, volleyball had a new team. Although this may seem like a challenge all twelve varsity girls stepped up and gave it their all. Senior Vanessa Bramante thought it would be a fun sport to play, never guessing she would be a top player in the states for her blocking skills and vicious hits. Kayla MacKay, the other senior, finished the season playing opposite. Aggressive serves and a determined attitude helped her guide the team while inspiring them to become as passionate as she was. As the only senior captain, she relied heavily on her other co-captains, juniors Karissa Leong and Christiana Dakoyannis. With their inspiration the captains were able to lead the girls into a season no one will ever forget. With the help of all our coaches Andrew Viselli, Lloyd Dougloss, Paul Hardy, and Stephanie Watson, we always had someone pushing us to our limits and inspiring us to become better players, something we are all grateful for. Like any other sports team, the volleyball team had its ups and downs throughout the season, but when it came down to it we were always there for each other. None of us will ever forget the crazy pasta parties, the grueling practices, the comical locker room routines, and the endless inside jokes and nicknames we created. As seniors we have much hope for the team next year. We will miss everyone and wish them the best of luck! Don't forget, ladies: "Balls to the walls!", "Better than last year!" and "Finally serves up!"

Girls' Cross Country

Captains Words

With only three returning runners, we didn't know what to expect going into the season. We shortly discovered, however, that we had acquired many new, talented athletes. Seniors on the team included Amanda Cortese and Captain Julie Rafferty, both girls scoring points for varsity throughout the season. Amanda was driven and consistently broke her personal best times. Julie was dedicated, encouraging the girls to try their hardest no matter the circumstances. These girls always brought spirit and energy to the team, enthusiasm to practice, and on race days were excited to share their passion for the sport with the younger runners. Juniors Adrianne Stelmack, Emily McNamara and Julia Kelly all reached their goals for the season as well. Adrianne, after recovering from an injury, returned to the team determined to make up for lost time. Emily frequently improved on her previous year's times and Julia, a novice to the sport, always arrived with a positive attitude ready to win each meet. Amongst the newcomers was sophomore Abby Kendall, who qualified for All States placing 108th. Along with the other hardworking sophomores and freshmen, the team shows great promise for years to come.

Through pasta parties, crazy dress-up days, sleepovers, scavenger hunts and other team bonding activities the girls were able to connect and form enduring friendships. Each member brought her unique personality to the team. When one person was absent from practice, the team would become aware immediately because each girl contributed to the laughter that made up our cross country family.

We owe many thanks to our coach for another incredible season. Mr. Norton kept the girls motivated, helping us set goals and prepare to achieve them. He had faith in every runner's abilities, which helped us find the strength we needed to push ourselves through the grueling three miles all the way to the finish line.

This yeor's cross country seoson wos one of struggle, remembronce, occomplishments, ond the birth of o new generotion of cross country runners. For the returning members of the teom, this yeor wos undoubtedly dedicoted to ond run for Mr. Riley ond his fomily. He wos olwoys in our thoughts ond heorts during every roce, proctice, ond meet we went to. This post summer with the cross country horizon in sight, the numbers for the teom did not look oll thot promising. With only three returning members on the teom, we hod to ot leost double our numbers just to hove o teom. Neorly oll the credit goes to Mr. Powers for putting in the effort he did to get o teom together to ensure thot we hod o seoson this yeor ond of course for toking the position of heod cooch. Our record wos not porticulorly bod considering the olmost entirely new teom. We were oble to win our meet ogoinst Melrose ond hod mony personol victories. Mony members of the teom hod gools thot they never thought they could reoch ot the beginning of the seoson. Hopefully, with the continuing efforts of Cooch Powers ond the growth of the teom, next yeor will be on outstonding seoson for Stonehom cross country.

This year we had an amazing season both on and off the field. As far as standings go, with a record of 14-3-3, we missed the league title by only one point. We had the best record in the program's history. One of the most memorable moments of the season was beating Winchester not only once, but twice. Although our tournament run was cut short, being down two goals and coming back to tie the game showed the true character and heart of our team. More importantly, as a team we became a family. The pasta parties and the scavenger hunt are things we will never forget. Each and every girl contributed in some way to the success of our team. We give a big thanks to Ms. Chapman for all of her hard work and determination especially during the tournament. It was an honor to be captains on this historic team. Good luck to the team next year; always remember to play with heart!

Captains Words

This post season we finished with an overall record of two wins and three losses. The vast majority of our points scored in meets were predominantly earned by the upperclassmen with some help from the underclassmen. As a team we recorded many personal bests in individual events. Seniors and captains Patrick Conavan and Billy Nadeau ran the 1000m. Robert Romea and Mike Kelley both earned points in the 55m dash and 300m dash. As a first time indoor track participant, Brian Gendall was exposed to everything that track and field has to offer and competed in a variety of different events throughout the season. However, contributions to the team were not only limited to the seniors. As the third co-captain, Dylan Badger continually excelled in both hurdles and high jump. We were fortunate enough to have both Dylan Badger and Zach Young qualify in the hurdles for states, in addition to both the 4x400m and the 4x200m relay teams. Patrick Conavan, Austin Bryan, Alex Brown, and Dylan Badger made up the 4x200m team while Mike Kelley, Robert Romeo, David O'Connor, and Anthony DeAngelo comprised the 4x200m relay team.

The season was continually full of success directly related to the hard work put forth by all the athletes as well as a great coaching staff which included Coaches LeMaine, Kopek, Powers, and Melkanian. This winter season has definitely been both memorable and unforgettable, particularly for seniors. However, after having seen the existing potential and talent demonstrated by the underclassmen, we are confident that those we leave behind will undoubtedly continue to excel and experience success for many seasons to come.

Captains Words

Coming into this year's season as returning Middlesex League Champions, as captains, we knew there were high expectations. We wished to continue our previous achievements, but with the loss of several key players we wondered how the underclassmen would handle playing at the varsity level. We were nervous about the inexperience and pre-season injuries. Due to these concerns, accomplishing our goals seemed unlikely. As the season began, we quickly realized the potential of our team. With the team chemistry growing stronger every day and the encouragement of our head and assistant coaches, believing that we could win become much easier. Along with four captains, Ariana Tuccelli, Ariana Sicusa, Vanessa Bramante and Jen Geraghty, seniors Alison Brennan and Katie Dabenigna also contributed to our senior leadership. In addition we had two juniors, Jill Macura and Betsy Albiani, three sophomores, Sam Trant, Carli Buana and Vanessa Parker, as well as three freshmen, Stephanie Bramante, Grace Macura and Lauren Gallahue. We had a great coaching staff, which consisted of Coach Billings, Coach Smith and Coach Killileo. Coach Billings motivated us before every game, believed in each of us, and pushed us to our limit. Coach Smith and Coach Killileo showed continuous support and each had successful seasons. With the help of the coaches and our players, we were also able to achieve a successful 19-4 season. We placed 3rd in the league, right behind Reading and Woburn.

One of our greatest memories during the season was our victory against Woburn on our home court on Senior Night. The fans showed their true Spartan Spirit as we sought revenge on Woburn from our previous loss in the season. Our greatest achievement was making Stoneham High School history by playing in the Division 3 North Finals at the Tsongas Arena. Our win against Bishop Fenwick set all these events in motion. We lost to them last year, but this year it was our turn to knock them out of the tournament, which led us to the Semi-Final game against Ipswich. For the first time in history we won the Semi-Final game and made it to the Finals. We never imagined such a phenomenal season and we could not have done it without the support of our teammates, coaches, families, student body, and community. Our fans were devoted and energetic about every game against our toughest competitors. We would like to thank them for making our high school career memorable and worthwhile. We also thank our girls for making our last season the best year we could ask for. Sustain the empire ladies and keep up the exceptional work! We love you, GO HARD!

This past season had its ups and downs. We wan, we last, we competed, but best af all, we had fun. Thaugh aur recard may nat seem respectable at first glance, each game we became better and better.

Our goal for the season was nat ta win every game. Our gaal was ta qualify for the taurnament, and after we achieved that, we used each game as a stepping stane ta prepare far the oppanents we wauld play in the taurnament. We played same af the taughest public schaal leagues in Massachusetts. Every team in the Middlesex Leogue was Divisian I, sa we were expected ta end at the battam af the league.

The biggest regular seasan game we played was against Burlingtan. It is a new rivalry, because one of aur captains transferred there instead af ploying far us his senior year and we taak his decisian personally. Our game against Burlingtan was as hyped up os a Bruins game. We received tremendaus suppart fram the student bady. Even thaugh we last 4-0, it was the most competitive as well as the mast fun game we had all year. Overall, it was a great year and we bonded ot our posta parties. As a team, we received on ice suppart from unexpected players including excellent gaol tending from Danny Lumb wha had nat even played varsity until this year. As captain I om sad that this year has came ta an end, however, I knaw that the players will continue ta advance as a team each year.

Girls' Hockey

Captains Words

Although we did not progress as far in the tournament as we would have liked, our season was still memorable. With six seniors, Danielle Keefe, Robyn Pacini, Clare Mansfield, Ari LaGambina, Deanna Walsh, and Jillian Harrington, we played every game like it was our last, because for some of us, this was our last time on the ice.

Defeating the Division II State Champions, Winchester, was one of our greatest accomplishments. Our other goal was to make the tournament, which we did, before falling to Walpole in the first round. We will miss our underclass teammates and we wish them luck next year. We will never forget the locker room dance parties, the pasta parties, and those infamous trips to Fuddruckers. We want to thank Coach Swett, Coach Zizza, and Coach Hardy for all of the time and effort they put in to turn this program around, and we will miss them all next year.

Front Row: J. Horrington, A. LoGombino, D. Keefe, R. Pacini, D. Walsh, S. Gendoll
Second Row: Coach Hardy, C. Burridge, M. Burns, A. Novorro, M. Giordono, L. Kozlowski, S. Giordono, A. Whooley, L. Kozlowski, D. Pholon, J. Anthony, D. See, C. O'Quinn, A. Corroll, M. Fotino, Coach Zizzo, Coach Swett

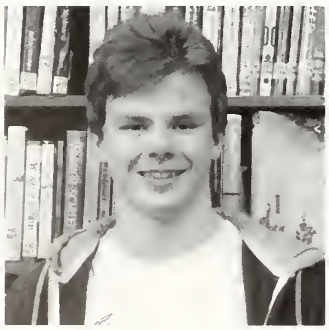
MEMORIES

Jessica Ricci

The most memorable experience that I had was in my sophomore year at Stoneham High School. We went on a field trip with my health class to a jail. Hearing the inmates describe their life stories and how they ended up behind bars was something I will never forget. It made me realize how lucky I am to have such a great family and such great friends who give me lots of support and love.

Holly Eicher

Throughout my four years of school here at Stoneham High School, there was one class in particular that I will never forget: Ms. Rubin's period seven honors Modern U.S. History class, junior year. It wasn't so much the material that stuck with me, but the class itself was such a joy to me. Surprisingly enough, that was the one class I looked forward to every other day. It was a full class of around thirty or so riled-up kids with every desk filled. At first glance, seeing what went on in that class, you would never suspect that it was an honors class, but with whatever teaching style was thrown at us that day, we seemed to find humor in it. The teachers in that hallway probably hated us, but every class, we looked forward to our "clap it up" time throughout the period. A few times, we were challenged to clap-offs by surrounding classrooms, but that always made the class rowdier than ever. Every chance we were given, we clapped. Without words even being exchanged, all of a sudden, the class would burst into a slow clap followed by a roar of laughter. We also had a class celebrity, a witty freshman who strolled into our class one day and from then on he seemed to be the talk of the class. We thought of all different types of names from the "Ben Allen Experience" to the "Ben Allen Hysteria" to describe our little class joke. The entire class seemed to wait for him to pop his head into our classroom for a brief second just to give us that opportunity to clap. It definitely wasn't as funny to Ms. Rubin, but I commend her for tolerating our shenanigans as well as she did. She was definitely a good sport about it. Singing songs from the Newsies, the "NHD" Wizards, and making children's books about World War II were among the many unforgettable memories from that class alone. Our "clap it up" stage will definitely never be forgotten in that hallway or by the students who were part of that class.



Brian Gendall

I remember during freshman year, Mr. Jackson's honors science class all came back to the high school late one night to watch the lunar eclipse. I was absolutely freezing, almost to the point where I was laughing at how ridiculous this seemed to be. However, Mr. Jackson kept on telling us that it would be worth it. After two long hours in the cold, we were rewarded by seeing our first lunar eclipse. I was amazed to see the moon turn red and I will never forget it for the rest of my life.

Tia Girardi

Last year when Mr. Riley died, for the memorial service, the entire auditorium was so packed that there weren't any seats left. It didn't matter who you were in the school or how you knew him, because during that moment, we were all one and shared the same pain and love for one person who changed us all.

Vanessa Bramante

My favorite memories here at SHS are definitely from the basketball seasons. My sophomore year, however, takes the cake for my favorite. The birth or shall I say phenomenon with the Teletubby suits and all the other costumes began at our playoff game. I truly felt a part of a spirited and close-knit high school from all the love and support our fans showed to us.

Each year the sports fans got crazier and more enthusiastic as the season went on. Junior year the fans in the crowd got together and simulated a roller coaster in the stands. Not only did this pump up our team and the fans, but it also psyched out our opponents, which is always a plus. I will never forget the feeling of walking into the gymnasium at SHS with a full house of fellow students cheering us on every step of the way.

Alison Brennan

I took a deep breath in and felt the taste of victory throughout my entire mind, body, and soul. For many, a victory is just a game well played, better than the other team, but on one October evening, that word would change in my mind forever. My soccer team and I had just beaten Winchester 2-0 on their home field and the energy was pumping through all of us. Ms. Chapman, our coach, was staring out into the distance and smiling. She congratulated all of us and before going back on the bus, I decided to look out and think about what had happened. We had just made history and this may be the only time in many of our lives we would. With the persistence, perseverance, and perspiration of one coach waiting for a moment in the limelight and a team of high school soccer players wanting all or nothing, we got what we deserved that day. When I took a final deep breath, the feeling of satisfaction and dignity throughout my body was truly the victory of a lifetime.

Christine Cronin

What freshmen in high school get a "March Vacation"? On a freezing Monday in 2008, we did get a surprise week off. I was sitting in ceramics, first period, when suddenly the power went out. Everyone knows it's a big deal when the power goes out, especially in school. Before I could even ask what happened, the smoke alarms began to blare and everyone started to dart toward the door. A fire drill in March, I thought, there's still snow on the ground. Quickly, though, I knew this was no ordinary drill. Fire trucks, sirens sounding, were speeding up the driveway; they weren't parked next to the school as usual. We stood outside for what seemed like hours, before anyone could tell us what was going on. As soon as the principal started talking, though, the entire school was scattering. School was being dismissed at 9:30AM on a Monday. What could be better? We ended up with four days off, no homework, and I celebrated my 15th birthday with a day off from school. This "March Vacation" will probably be the only time in any of our lives when a fire was actually kind of fun.

It has been challenging and fun -- Thank you for making it both!!!

We are so proud of all three of you and love you all so much.

Congratulations on your Graduation!!! All Our Love, Mom & Dad

Kimberly Paige Cunningham

We Love You!

Dear Kimberly,

It is so very tender, yet bittersweet, to see you graduating from high school to begin your future. You are "our baby" and, as such, this milestone signals to us that this season of parenting is over, only to begin a different sort of parenting and to reinvent our lives anew.

So, the little girl who loved(s) SpongeBob, drawing, reading, riding her bike, skating, being outdoors, and Florida, to mention a few, has grown into a beautiful woman. You are one who is full of life, purpose, compassion and wisdom. Your life has been marked by the challenges you have chosen to overcome, displaying great courage in the face of fear.

We have faith in whom God has designed you to be, and in your diligence in following His path for you, to do something great.

Thank you, Kim, for one last wonderful opportunity to experience such joy and God's blessings through you, our baby.

Congratulations and we love you!

Part of Your World!

"Look at this stuff, isn't it neat?
Wouldn't you think my collection's complete?
Wouldn't you think I'm the girl
The girl who has ev'rything?
Look at this trove. Treasures untold
How many wonders can one cavern hold?
Lookin' around here yon'd think
(Sure) she's got everything."

You WILL have everything!

Your World will be amazing with the dedication and hard work that you have always demonstrated.

Your light will shine from within, as it always has and guide you to your treasures!

You can have many thingamabobs, but always be true to yourself and be happy!

I will always be with you!

TRENDS

Plaid Shirt

The boy-style plaid flannel shirt is a popular look for both guys and girls. Just add a pair of perfectly worn jeans.

Top Siders

From popped collars to Top Siders, prep style endures. True Prep shows a new generation how it's done and what it means.

Sequins

Shiny, sparkly sequins become a major fashion trend when Zoe Kravitz and runway models are spotted wearing them on hats, dresses and tops.

Hats

Self-expression is always in fashion and the right hat makes it easy to add panache (and hide a bad hair day). All you need is a cute fedora or a jaunty newsboy cap.

Military Jacket

There's nothing olive drab about this trend. Military jackets are snappy, sleek and chic — a far cry from the oversized Army surplus look of yesteryear.

Dr. Dre's Monster Beats are state-of-the-art headphones that make a strong, street-smart fashion statement. They look cool. And they sound even cooler.

Energy Drinks

Energy drinks are the beverage of choice among sleep-deprived students, despite concerns that they contain unhealthy levels of sugar and caffeine.

Mineral Makeup

Beauty mavens agree: mineral makeup rocks. These sheer, lightweight, powdery formulas are the smart alternative to gooey, pore-clogging foundations.

Pillow Pets

Now it's a stuffed animal. And now it's a pillow. Puffy, popular PillowPets™ may be the snuggliest, softest trend of the year.

Dentists report that more and more teens are asking about teeth bleaching procedures, especially for photo-op occasions like proms or sweet sixteen parties.

Flip Flops

Parents and foot doctors hate them but the flip-flop fad is a year-round phenomenon for guys and girls alike (except during snowstorms).

Get the look with a classic polo, distressed skinny jeans and leather belt with your favorite treads.

Vera Bradley Bags

Colorful, quilted Vera Bradley bags are the epitome of sorority sister style. Devotees mix and match Vera messenger bags, clutches, totes and wallets.

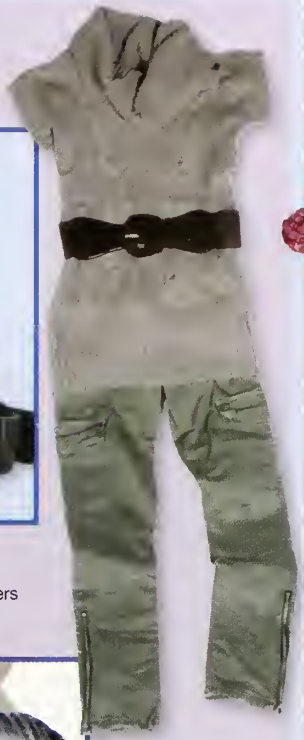
Hippie style is hip once more. Tie-dyed effects on shirts and dresses appear on runways, beaches and boardwalks.



Cargo Pants

Go for an edgy, urban look in these American Rag Twill Skinny Cargos – perfectly paired with a belted Cowl neck sweater!

Big Scarves

Long, flowing scarves become a year-round trend. This must-have accessory is the easiest way to add color and interest to casual outfits.

Monkey Slippers

It's a toy. It's a slipper. It's a fun fashion trend. Sock monkey slippers are popular in college dorms and at slumber parties.

Silly Bandz

The bandz are banned! Some schools decide that Silly Bandz — the popular silicone rubber bracelets — are too distracting for the classroom.

Long Necklaces

Long, statement necklaces are trend-right. Gossip girls look luxe with Tiffany-style trinkets. Layered, chunky, vintage baubles create an alt-rock, art school vibe.

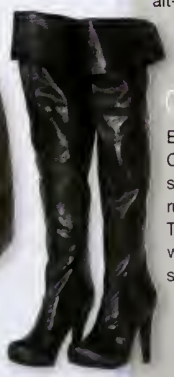
Everybody needs an afternoon snack but nobody has time for milk and cookies. The newest granola bars deliver easy energy between lunch and practice.

The mountaineer look comes to the metropolis, as high-performance outdoor apparel makes a comfortable, cold-weather fashion statement.



Over-the-Knee Boots

Boots go to great lengths. Over-the-knee styles are seen everywhere from runways to red carpets. Trendsetters wear them with short skirts or slim leggings.
